

About ANMF (Vic Branch)

ANMF (Vic Branch) has a membership of over 86,000 nurses, midwives and carers employed in a range of health services including hospitals, mental health services, aged care facilities, community health centres, maternal and child health centres, schools, medical clinics, prisons, the Australian Red Cross Blood Service and district nursing services. ANMF (Vic Branch) offers members grants, awards and research grants to promote nursing and midwifery excellence, education, and improved patient/client outcomes. Details at anmfvic.asn.au/recognition

What has the ANMF done for members?

- Successfully campaigned to legislate nurse/midwife patient ratios. Secured historic ratio improvements and new ratios phased in from March 2019. Secured an Andrews Government re-election promise to legislate a second round of ratio improvements including ratios in mental health services.
- Achieved net pay parity in 2019 for Victorian public sector general acute, aged care and mental health and private acute members with their New South Wales colleagues.
- Secured an Andrews Government commitment to 'ANMF's 10 point plan to end violence' leading to contractual obligations on public hospital boards to report all violent incidents in their annual reports tabled in parliament. ANMF continues to work with hospitals to end violence.
- Secured clauses in the public sector general and mental health agreements making employers responsible and accountable for workplace safety by developing and implementing consistent action plans to end violence. ANMF will use this work as a blueprint for private and not-for-profit employers to adopt.
- Worked with the Nursing Board of Victoria to set up the Nursing and Midwifery Health Program Victoria (NMHPV) in 2006. Secured ongoing Andrews Government funding in 2017 for the program. NMHPV provides free face-to-face counselling, referral and support by nurses for nurses and midwives and nursing and midwifery students.
- Secured paid family violence leave to enable members experiencing family violence to maintain employment while taking time off for medical and court appointments.
- Retained registered nursing positions in private-for-profit and not-for-profit aged care agreements. Campaigning for safer staffing levels and better wages and conditions.
- Negotiated a partnership with the Andrews Government to reduce health services' impact on the environment.
- Campaigned successfully to keep nurses', midwives' and carers' access to the federal government's additional paid parental leave.

When you become an Australian Nursing and Midwifery Federation (Victorian Branch) member, you are joining over 86,000 registered and enrolled nurses, midwives, and personal care workers who have made the same important decision.

Welcome to ANMF (Vic Branch).

Members help us to make real differences in nursing, midwifery and personal care work in Victoria.

We are the only union that represents nurses, midwives, assistants in nursing and personal care workers industrially and professionally. Our first priority is to ensure you have the conditions that match the dedication you have for your professions.

The ANMF (Vic Branch) has fought and won nurse/midwife to patient ratios; qualification allowances; accrued days off; pay rises; professional leave; study leave; paid parental leave; no-lifting policies; improved workplace health and safety standards, and increased night duty allowances. Our current priorities include securing nurse/carer to resident ratios in private aged care and ending the unacceptable and preventable violence across all areas of Victoria's healthcare facilities.

None of this could be done without members' commitment to work with us to ensure nursing, midwifery and personal care work maintain the highest levels of professionalism and employment conditions.

The more members we have, the stronger we are and the more we'll achieve. If you are committed to a nursing/midwifery or carer career, if you want to see nurses, midwives and carers recognised for the work they do, if you want to make sure the Victorian community receives high quality care, then join us. Work with us and be part of making nursing, midwifery and personal care work the wonderful and satisfying professions we know they are.

Lisa Fitzpatrick
Secretary
