Executive Director of Nursing and / or Midwifery
Director of Nursing and / or Midwifery
Chief Nursing and/or Midwifery Officer (However titled)

This position statement is reflective of the Australian Nursing and Midwifery Federation (Victorian Branch) opinion in relation to the appointment of a senior registered nurse/midwife to the role of Director of Nursing/Midwifery (however titled).

Preface
The Australian Nursing and Midwifery Federation (Victorian Branch) [ANMF (Vic Branch)] considers every health service, regardless of size or speciality must appoint suitably qualified and experienced senior nursing and/or midwifery leader to oversee the direction of nursing and/or midwifery practise within the specific health service.

Candidates appointed to these roles must be a registered nurse, in the case of nursing services, or a registered midwife where the health service offers midwifery services; or a registered nurse and registered midwife in the case of the health service providing both nursing and maternity services.

With the evolution of present day nursing and midwifery models of care and an increase in consumer expectations, hospitals have been redesigned to provide privacy and dignity for patients, and an clinical care environment more conducive to safe, contemporary nursing practice.

The appointment of a designated Director of Nursing/Midwifery sanctions the Director of Nursing/Midwifery (however titled) to effectively manage the nursing and/or midwifery health professionals within the health services environment; to co-ordinate clinical practice and governance and ambulatory services, as well as to safeguard quality outcomes for patients/clients/residents, in addition to their managerial responsibilities.

The ANMF (Vic Branch) believes that the nursing and midwifery career structure, described in the Nurses (Victorian Health Services) Award 2000, and defined in applicable certified agreements and Australian Nursing and Midwifery Federation (Victorian Branch) Agreed Maternity Models of Care accommodates all the models under which nursing and maternity services are best delivered in Victorian health care environments.

It is the position of the ANMF (Vic Branch) that:

1. All health and aged care services executive organisational structures must include the position of a Director of Nursing/Midwifery or equivalent (however titled);
